

Abstract

In this research the direct computation method is used to solve the Volterra-Friedholm integro differential equation and To illustrate this method , some examples and exercises are presented