
ABSTRACT

The purpose of this research is to use actual biological data (population models) as a way to appreciate the importance of eigenvalues and eigenvectors. This module can be used in a linear algebra class or any other appropriate level math course. We will develop examples and questions for each topic which will show how eigenvalues and eigenvectors can be used to address questions regarding the long-term behavior of the population under study.