

Our main objective in this work is study applicability and simplicity of a domain decomposition method to fredholm integral equation method