

Abstract

Polynomial is one of the important topics that the student faces when studying the mathematics topic and the mediation stage because it forms the basis for finding solutions (unknowns) in it and also verifying this through the mathematical process, because the given result is a solution for that polynomial