Abstract

In this research the direct computation method used to solve nonhomogenous nonlinear fredholm integral equations of the second kind and to illustrate this use of this method some examples and exercises are solved