Abstract

The study of the right annihilator can be used in the geometrical classification of associative algebras. It is for such a reason, the researcher in the present study describe the right annihilator in the case of associative algebras and study some of its properties. Using an existing algebraically classification result of low dimensional associative algebra, we find the right annihilator of four- dimensional associative algebras.