

Abstract

The main purpose of this research is to study and define the prime submodules, as well as we study the relationship between the primary module and primary submodules . We also give a condition in which the monolithic image of primary module is a primary module.